Opposite page top: Father Time has watched over the lives of many students, teachers, and others as the years slowly ticked by. Middle: Time has come again for the 1983-84 academic year at Wind River High School as it becomes another year in the lives of many people. Bottom: Math has the same effect on Del Howery as the taste of Kaopectate has on others. Immuned to this cruel and unusual punishment are Johanne Wanstall, Marc Griebel, and Dwight Harris. Center: As the year rolled on, the students' lives included extracurricular activities. The Boy's State Basketball Tournament provided more entertainment than just basketball. While the festivities were being held at the Casper Events Center, Bob Hutchins and Scott Inman were occupied as they compared vital statistics and figures after the game. Meanwhile, Jerry Looney, Matt Fox, and Deanna Hyatt assured their accuracy. Insert: Studying played a major role during the day. While Cami Scheer studies the art of photography, Randy Dolcater examines human anatomy. This page center: Spirits rise as students combine their enthusiasm to fill the gym with sounds of jubilation. Bottom: A special moment, shared between Laura Weliever and Kevin Annan, is captured for all time as this dance creates priceless memories.

Time spent at school was a way of life for many WRHS students. In fact, it was like a home to many, especially those who put a lot of themselves into this otherwise desolate brick building. Within these walls which housed each individual, they shared each other's lives and became a family.

Those individuals who bestowed upon their family a fragment of themselves, breathed new life and hope into the restrictive, everyday routine, and thus eased some of the anguish felt by the more timid members of the family. These contributions ranged from greeting another student when passing down the hall, taking time out to show others the way, and assisting a fellow student in a time of need. All the incidents added together made up a large unit linked to the closeness the students shared.

The closeness of the upperclassmen enveloped the freshmen after their arrival to make them feel at home. It took a while for them to feel comfortable and secure, but eventually they adjusted and became a major organ in this student body. As the newcomers replaced a part of the body that had been lost last year, so the class of 1988 will substitute for the class of '84, the heart of this structure after their time runs out.

Paths opened in free time

Life outside of the Wind River High School dispersed into different paths as students used their time for other activities. During the week, some were employed at various jobs at home or in town. As the weekend or vacation slowly approached, high hopes for a great time were envisioned in the students' minds. At last, the free-time came, and some students were found in Riverton's bowling alleys, eating establishments or movie theaters while others simply spent their time cruising main or stayed home. Some passed their time with their involvement in their hobbies and special interests such as horse back riding, playing video games, shopping, or travelling. Though whatever the students did in their spare time, they were always eager to return to school the following school day.

Worldwide issues affected WRHS

News in the surrounding community affected the daily lives of the WRHS students and faculty. On October 20, 1983 the house of Mr. Robert Blackwell, the school principal, was fired upon by two former WRHS students. Fortunately, nobody was injured in the shooting. The two were apparently drinking at the time because of the empty beer can alongside the empty rifle cartridges. The youngest of the two was sentenced to at least one year in the Wyoming Industrial Institute at Worland. He was also ordered to pay a restitution of $4,231.13 to Mr. Blackwell. The sentence also gave the authorities at the institute the right to transfer this individual to the Wyoming State Hospital at Evanston to undergo alcohol treatment or mental evaluation. The other involved with the gunfire was sentenced to spend a year in the County Jail and permitted to attend the Lander Valley High School during the school day. Other local news included the record low temperatures during the winter and the severe spring snow storm which killed hundreds of cattle and sheep. The controversial Wind River School District bond issue made its debut once again. The opposition distributed petitions to hinder the bond issue from being placed on the ballot. Despite the opposition's efforts, the supporters tried to clarify the need of a new school building. These actions in the school's environment reflected on the students at Wind River.

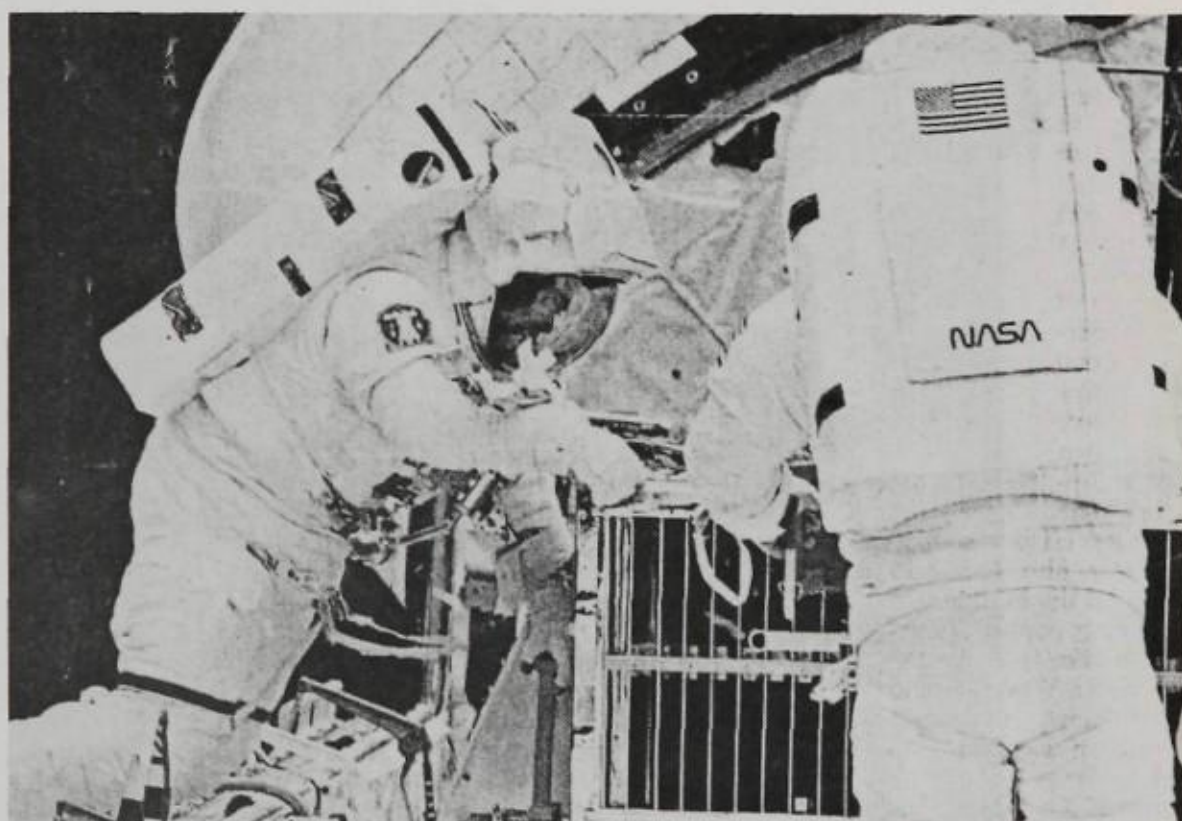

National and international news also influenced the lives of those students and faculty members as well. On September 1, 1983, the world's fingers pointed at the Soviet Union after they fired missiles on the Korean Air Lines Flight 007 that invaded the Soviet air space and didn't establish communications on Russian radio. Because of this outrageous conduct, 269 people aboard were slaughtered. U.S. President Ronald Reagan expectedly charged the Soviets for the KAL 'massacre'. He demanded that they admit their outburst and make payments to the families of the people that they murdered. However, Moscow ignored Reagan's threats. Meanwhile, the U.S. Marines were trying to maintain peace in Beirut, Lebanon when on October 23, 1983 a suicidal jeep carrying two tons of TNT darted through the gates of the headquarters and crashed into the barracks, killing 241 men after the collision. The U.S. invasion of Grenada shocked the world on October 25, 1983 as troops moved in to save the American medical students from Cuban forces. Britain had already started receiving the U.S. cruise missiles when the West German Parliament voted to accept the new U.S. Pershing II missiles on November 22, 1983. The next day, Russia walked out of Geneva arms reduction talks, postponing hopes for a nuclear freeze. To start off the new year, Mr. Reagan journeyed to Korea and China to improve diplomatic relations. In May in a show of power, the Soviets boycotted the Summer Olympic Games at Los Angeles. Several other Soviet Block countries followed Moscow's example and these countries held their own games. These issues of the world and others gained the interest of everyone at Wind River.

tionized satellite repair as it fixed a satellite in space. Bottom right: President Reagan demonstrated his reaction to the heating democratic presidential nomination race as it decreased to three nominees who were former Vice President Walter Mondale, Senator Gary Hart and Reverend Jesse Jackson.

ACTIVITIES

Custom rules

Homecoming at Wind River was a success despite the loss of the football game. The theme "Nursery Rhymes" was expressed through the floats that paraded around the football field for judging during half time. Many activities took place during the week long celebration. The students really showed a lot of spirit during the Best Smile Day, Dress-Up Day, Crazy Day, and Purple and White Day. Topping off the week was the Wind River Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America's chili dinner. This was followed by a pep rally with class yells and skits.

Instead of a plain old bonfire, this year the new idea of burning the school initials was tried. The letters were constructed of wood and paper. Coronation of the homecoming royalty followed the fire. Crowned as King and Queen were seniors, Matt Fox and Jami Scheer. Their senior attendants were Ken Smith and Laura Weliever. Bob Hutchins and Robin Nipper were selected as the junior attendants and Cami Scheer and Justin Wilcox represented the sophomore class. Pat Hutchins and Shauna Weliever were the freshmen attendants. Another attraction of the evening was the recognition of the senior football and volleyball players and their parents.

A special addition to the student body and school was revealed also during Homecoming. This was the school mascot, Charlie the Cougar. He was purchased by the Recreation Board for School District Number Six.

Homecoming came to an end with the semi-formal dance sponsored by the Student Council with the music provided by Rock on Wheels.

WR Thespians entertained

The speech and drama class kicked off its year with the Seventh Annual Dinner Theatre. "Going, Going, Gone with the Wind" was staged by the speech and drama class under the direction of Miss Jones. The comedy was set on an old southern plantation. Mr. Nyberg and his art classes assisted in the construction of the set. Music from nearly a century ago was presented. Southern food was served both evenings to the crowd of nearly two hundred people. On the menu this year was southern fried chicken, biscuits and gravy, peas, a fruit cup, and topped off with a slice of pecan pie. The meal was catered by Creative Catering from Riverton and volunteer students served the meal under the direction of Miss Nelson and Mrs. Newkirk.

In conjunction with the music department "The Nutcracker Suite" was enacted by the speech and drama class at the Christmas program. Mickie Mantle assisted Miss Jones with the directing and Tina Leonhardt provided the music for the group on the synthesizer.

In addition to these two main events, the class participated in speech meets. They attended the Speech & Drama Festival this year at Rock Springs. The troupe also planned to perform a melodrama at the end of the school year.

Center: Troy Runner tries every trick in the book to convince Kris Yates to let him marry her daughter. Top insert: Not only can they act but they sing too. Cougars lite up the nite

Four major dances kept the student body fired up during the year. Football and volleyball Homecoming started the year off. Rock on Wheels, the D.J., brought a variety of music to brighten up the night. The majority of the school showed up to enjoy the dance.

The second dance, as decided, was called the "Basket-Ball." This particular dance was held directly after a game. The turnout was great, and the students had a "ball".

The next big dance to come about was the "Snowball". This dance was held during the wrestling and girl's basketball seasons. The turnout for the dance could have been better, but the kids who didn't go, didn't know what they missed. It was not only fun but the snowball fight was great.

The dance of the year had to be Prom. The Juniors did an excellent job with the planning and the set up. The theme "Night in Paradise," was a perfect title, for the band was good, the students danced all night and the food was excellent.

The dances throughout the year were all successes and all were enjoyable. Thanks to all who participated and helped out to make this past year a great one.

Dept praised for concerts

From the first day of school to the last, the music department put in a lot of time and effort. This dedication and hard work paid off, though, in some interesting concerts.

This year the band played at three concerts and performed at several pep assemblies and basketball games. The band also received an excellent standing for their efforts at the Music Festival.

The chorus classes did exceptionally well this year, performing in four enjoyable concerts, Dinner Theater in November, a Christmas concert, the "On The Air" program and a spring concert. The select chorus performed at all of these and received a Superior at Festival. The chorus performed at all of the concerts except Dinner Theater and received an Excellent for their efforts at Festival.

Mr. Hughes said he was very pleased with the improvement of each class and all of the groups' Festival ratings.

SPORTS

Cougars Win State Trophy

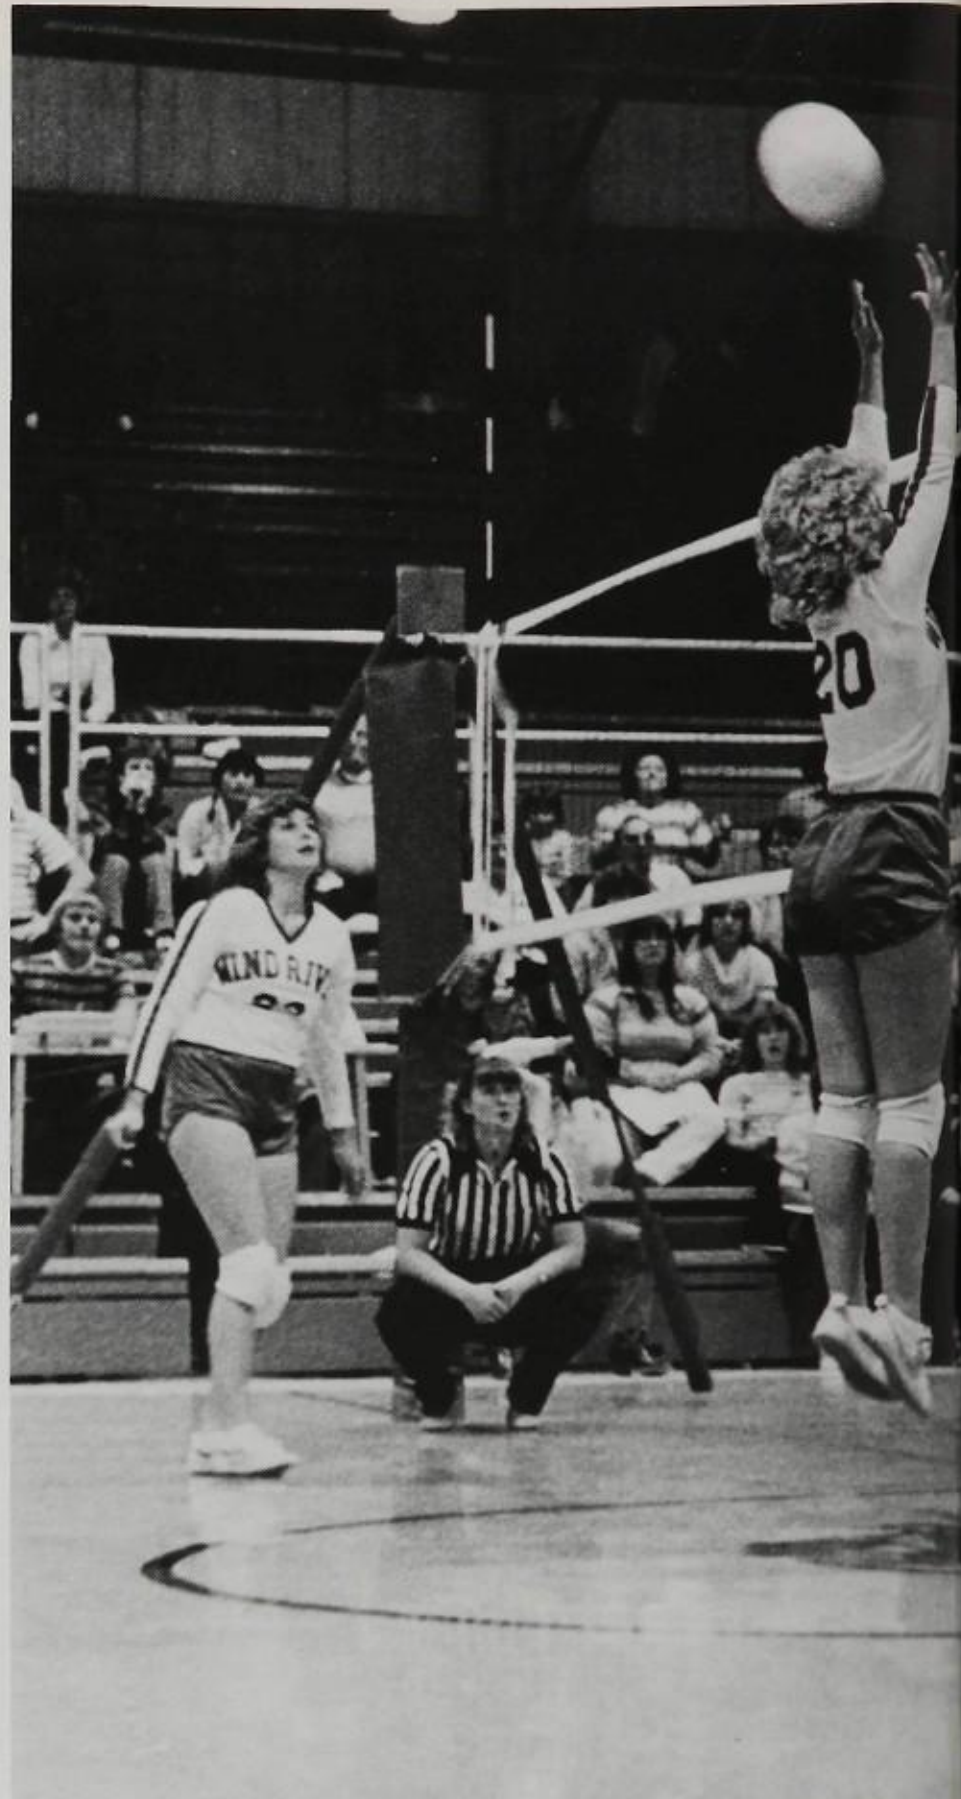

The Lady Cougars, with a lot of drive and determination, received the first state volleyball trophy in Wind River's history by placing fifth and winning the Consolation trophy at the state tournament held in Riverton. The team also placed third at the Regional tournament held in Shoshoni.

The team achieved these feats by working hard on the fundamentals of volleyball and developing the ability to spike hard. They also worked on the mental part of the game as well as the physical portion. Dr. Bob Elder, the school psychologist, helped the girls with the mental part of the game. Dr. Elder showed the team relaxation exercises and mental preparation exercises. The team worked hard on the basic drills in practice, and as the season progressed, the team improved their form.

The Lady cougars were coached by Julie Fiebigger and assistant coach Dennis VanDenbos and were lead by four seniors, Brenda Swank, Laura Weliever, Jami Scheer, and Vicki Lund. Despite the leadership of these seniors, the Cougars were virtually a young team. The team was put to the test with the addition of three new conference teams: Lovell, Greybull, and Rocky Mountain (a consolidation of Byron, Cowley, and Deaver). The Five Rivers Conference was also changed from Class B to Class AA.

Two Cougars were named to tournament teams. Jami Scheer was named to the Regional All-Tournament team and Vicki Lund was selected to the State All-Tournament team.

Mr. VanDenbos stated "The J.V. team showed improvement, made progress and with a lot of hard work and extra effort should be a good team next year."

Young team gains skills

The Cougars had trouble balancing the year with the Five Rivers Conference opponents (including the new teams added to the conference: Rocky Mountain, Lovell, and Greybull). The last game of the year against Greybull, the Cougars had more yards rushing than against any other team they played, and Greybull was second in the State in class A.

Coach Gomendi stated, "We were young and unexperienced but offensively and defensively we improved. Defensively, we just needed to react faster and be a lot tougher. This will happen when we start getting more experienced players."

What will coaches expect in 1984? They would like to see an undefeated season to start with. The Cougars will play the same schedule except the home and away games will reverse. Gomendi felt that the Cougars in 1984 would still be a young team but they would have a lot more experience; a necessary skill for football.

Team awards were given to the following individuals:

- Best lineman-Jerry Looney
- Best running back-Ryan Roden
- Best receiver-Bob Hutchins
- Best defensive player-Vince Phillips
- Most improved-Zane Vaughn & Marvin Cox
- Best freshman-Pat Hutchins & Craig Blackwell
- Best sophomore-Dale Tarbet
- Best junior-Ryan Roden
- Best senior-Vince Phillips

The Five Rivers All Conference team included the following Cougars:

- First Team Defense-Vince Phillips (End)
- Second Team Offense -Darrell Smith (Tackle)
- Second Team Offense-Matt Fox (End)

Cougars games

Defense wins

The Wind River Cougar Girl's Basketball had a tough beginning, still learning a new offense which worked well for them throughout the season. The year was an exciting and complicated one, as the conference teams went through a see-saw season. Defense was a very important part of the games played this year. The team that was to win the Regional tournament this year, was the one who wanted it the most. The competition was tough for everyone. The Cougars headed to Regionals with a high potential standard wanting to win First.

The team's best complimented game for the season was at home against Basin. Mr. Sinner commented, "It's the best girl's basketball game, I've ever seen at W.R.H.S.!" Fans and parents were impressed as the girls improved their skills more and more each game. These skills perfected during the Regional Tournament at Dubois. The Cougars defeated Dubois to advance to the semi-finals. The girls went on to lose a heartbreaker to Shoshoni, but they held tough to eliminate Lovell and conquer Wyoming Indian High for third place, thus qualifying for State. Selected for the All-tournament team at Regionals were Brenda Swank and Vonda Wells.

At State in Rock Springs the following weekend, the Cougars had a good start, but they ran into a height disadvantage. The girls completed their season with a disappointing loss to Lusk.

Overall the Cougarettes had an aggressive and determined year.

Cougars defy expectations

After a loss of eight seniors, the Cougars were said to have a rebuilding year. They, however, found many strengths and became a team that saw a few losses, but they also showed their winning capabilities by placing third in the Five Rivers Regional Conference Tournament held at Lovell. Lovell was added to the Cougar's game schedule this year as well as teams from Glenrock, Rocky Mountain, Manderson and Greybull.

Though the Cougar team suffered the drastic drop in experience, they showed everyone they were still capable of obtaining the goals they set out to reach. With only four seniors on the team, the underclassmen easily completed the squad for Regionals and State. Five juniors and three freshman joined the four seniors to compose the varsity team coached by Mr. Van Denbos.

The coaches, varsity players and cheerleaders packed up and headed for Casper for the State Tournament. The tournament's games were played at the Events Center and Casper College. The Cougars did not make it to the final games, but they can be very proud, as they came home ranked seventh in the State.

Matt Fox and Ryan Roden showed outstanding abilities throughout the season as well as at the Regional Tournament. They subsequently were named to the All Conference Team at Regionals. Ryan continued to shine at the State Tournament and received the honor of being named to the All-State Tournament Team as well.

Cats wrestle up a victory

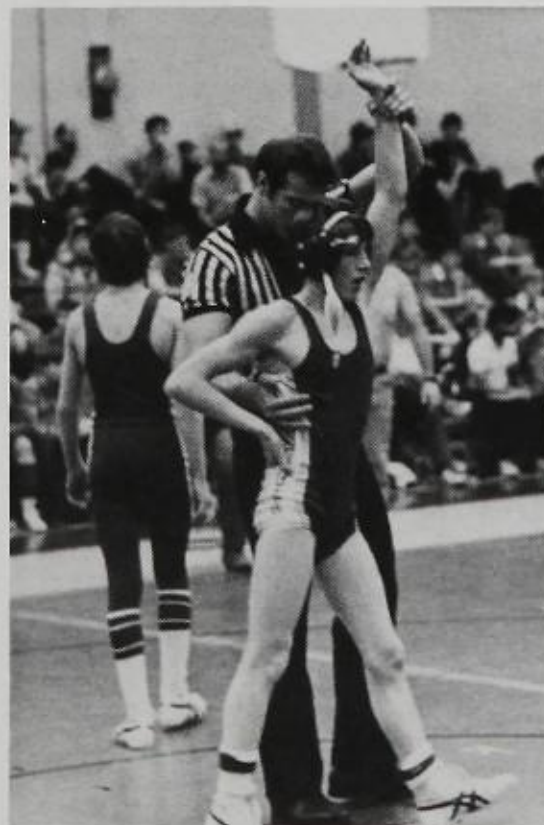

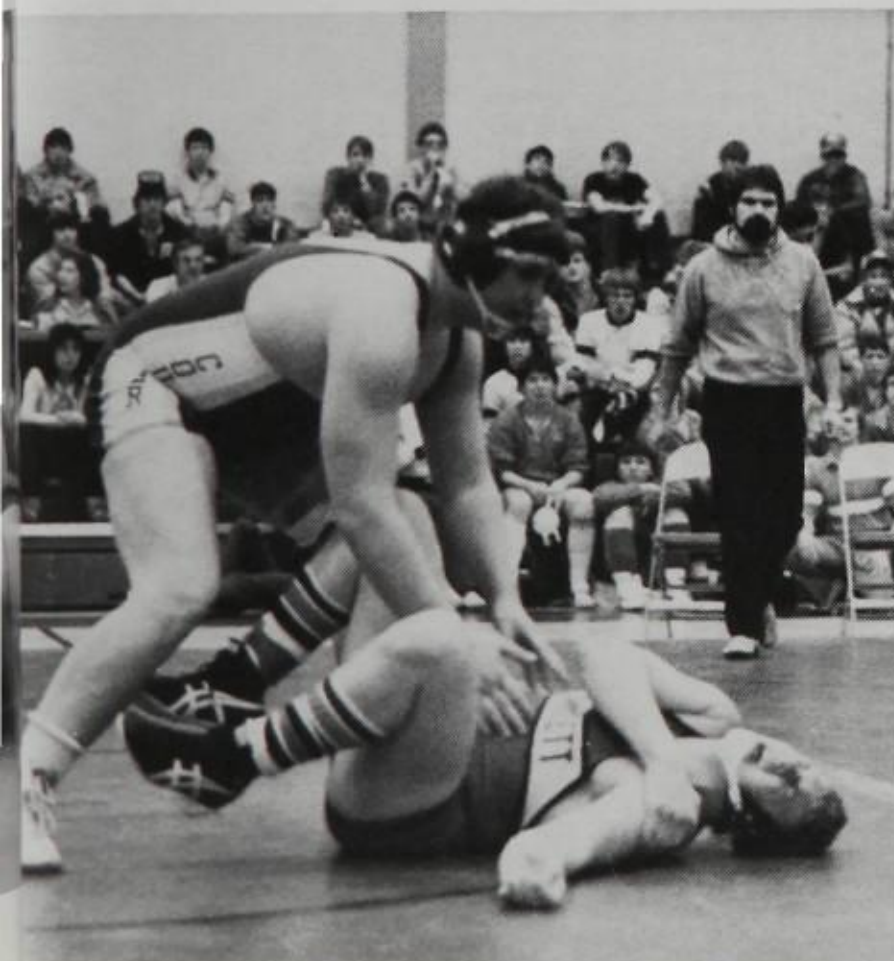

The Cougar team gave Coach Uffelman a pleasant surprise at the Regional Tournament held this year at Greybull March 30 and 31 by placing second overall and by qualifying nine out of twelve members for the State meet held this year in Casper April 6 and 7. Qualifying for State this year was Brent Wilkes at 98-Regionals Champ, Sean Dunn at 105-Regionals Champ, Quentin Tillman at 119-2nd, Vince Phillips at 126 — 3rd, John Morrison at 138-4th, Shawn Steffen at 155-3rd, Marvin Cox at 167-4th and Regional Champs Jerry Looney at 185 and Charlie Looney at HWT. At State, Charlie and Jerry placed second in their respective weight divisions, while Sean suffered an injury during his match for third and had to settle for fourth. Vince suffered an injury during the Regional meet which kept him from wrestling at the State meet.

Although this was a year full of injury for the Cougar team, they fared well at the matches they attended. The Cougars placed second at the Seaton and Basin tournaments, fifth at the Don Runner and ninth at State. They also ended their season duels 6-3, a record that pleased Uffelman.

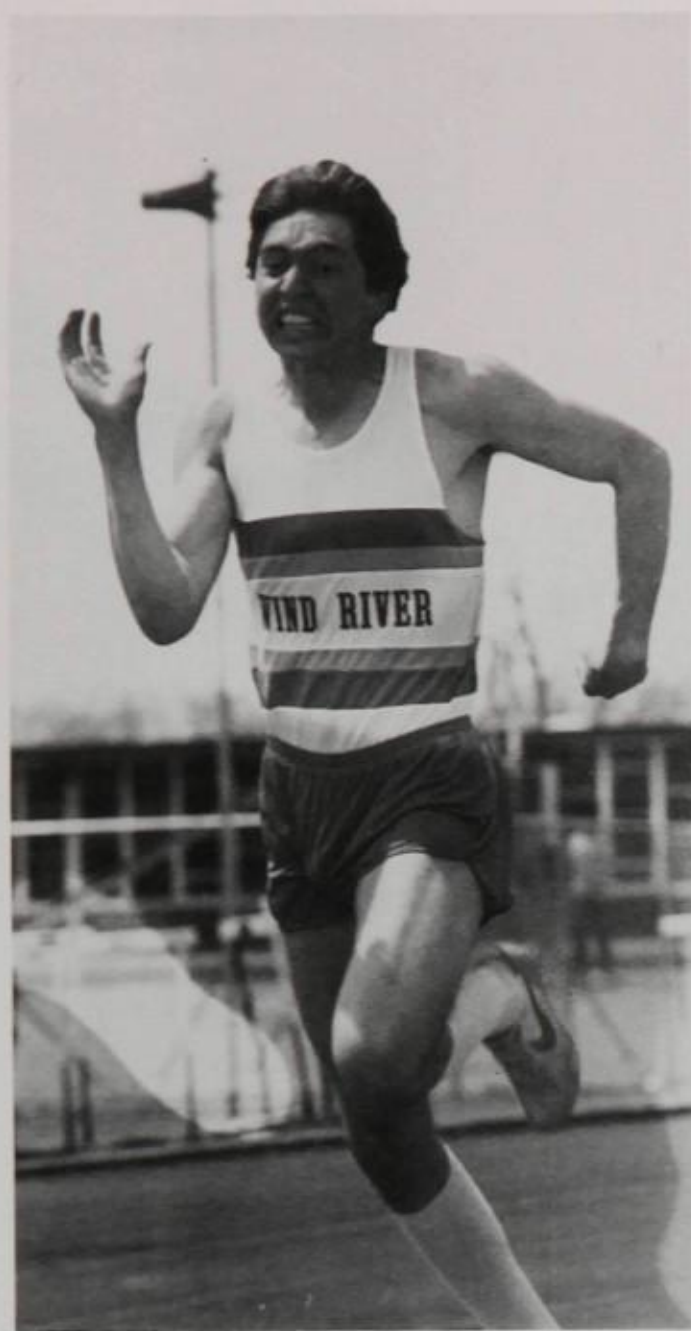

The team was supported well by six outstanding cheerleaders. Mickie Mantle, Gail Whitman, Shanel Wilcox, Tiffany Finch, Tina Noonan, and Mrs. Dean, Cheerleading sponsor.

Girl's track shined in '84

Despite the bad weather and injuries the Cougar teams had a great year. They started the year off by attending the Riverton Invitational. Throughout the season, everyone tried to get the best time and distance in their field and track events. The teams' last meet before Regionals was the Wind River Invitational where the boys took 1st and the girls received 3rd for their hard work.

At Regionals, although plagued by a few injuries, the boys ran into 5th place. The eyes lit up on the girls' faces when they heard that they had placed 2nd. This was the first time in the school's history that the girls team placed higher than the boys team.

State was held May 17-19 in Casper. Success was with the Cougar teams from the beginning as Matt Fox took the State long jump competition. The girls also had a good start. Torie Wilcox ran into 3rd place in the 3200 m run. As the meet continued the next day, Brodie Nicholls and Ryan Roden scored in the high jump, taking 4th and 5th, respectively. The girls scored more points as Carol Wilson and Laura Weliever went into the finals in the hurdle events. The boys 1600 m relay team of Matt Fox, Tom Heron, Harley Walters and Ed Abeyta took 5th place.

Both the Cougar teams' hard work during the season paid off as the girls finished 9th and the boys placed 11th at the State Meet.

ORGANIZATIONS

Council hosts new projects

This year's Wind River Student Council was very active. They began their many activities in August, when they held a dance to welcome freshmen, newcomers, and fellow students back to school. They also provided some entertainment for the students enjoyment at Halloween and Christmas.

Student Council State Convention was held during the late part of October and the early part of November. There the Student Council representatives learned new ideas and made new friends.

The group successfully earned their money by icecream and candy sales during lunch hour, computer matches and Valentine's Day, calendar sales, dances, and a nachos sale after school.

To add to the community's excitement, the Student Council held a winter carnival in the high school gymnasium. There the group stationed a booth called "Pachos Nachos." The group also kept the students up to date on events with a monthly bulletin and the marque.

Student Council Officers were: Pres. Joe Campbell; Vice Pres. Dan Dockham; Sec. Mickie Mantle; Treasurer; Ross Goff; Hist. Ken Smith.

FHA explores

The Future Homemakers of America kicked off their year with the Leadership Training Day in Thermopolis. They attended the District IV Fall Meeting with all twelve members. The school social worker, Mrs. Shaw, presented a unit on family communication to the group to help the chapter on their project.

The FHA was also active within the school. They sponsored a chili supper during homecoming, and it was a success. The group also had a bottle-hoop booth at the Student Council Winter Carnival. The chapter hosted a Christmas party for the members. During FHA Week the group held a breakfast for the members.

Not only did the group work together but also individually. Several members worked on REACH projects and placed at the state meeting.

FFA sets the pace for '84

The dairy judging team set the pace for the FFA Chapter by reaching first in the state. John Stoll lead the team by being second high individual in the state dairy judging contest. The team then went on to nationals in Kansas City where they placed seventeenth in the nation. Receiving a gold emblem, Laura Weliever placed sixteenth in the nation overall. Vicki Lund placed forty-fourth receiving a silver emblem.

For money making projects and activities, the FFA Chapter accomplished many things. They sold hats, fruit, pictures of wildlife, and held a dunking booth at the Student Council carnival. The Chapter not only concentrated on money making projects, but they participated in fun activities, too. The Chapter supplied the candy for the Crowheart and junior high school Christmas programs. The FFA seniors got the privilege to take a trip to Denver for the stock show in January. The activities during the National FFA week included a radio program, a faculty breakfast, agricultural hat and official dress day. The FFA participated in the Chapter and District Speech Contest, but didn't do as well as previous years. At State FFA Convention, Laura W. was named Star Farmer from the Southwest Region and the Chapter received a superior rating.

The Chapter hosted a banquet on April 26th where awards were given. Lili Williams was then announced as Chapter Sweetheart. Still another project the FFA sponsored was Dr. Jim Kern, a speaker who the students welcomed and enjoyed.

Because of the successful pace set throughout the school year, the chapter continued its enthusiasm during the summer months at the county and state fairs.

Skiers "bite the big one"

The skier that is most noticed on the slopes of Jackson Hole is the beginning skier. After falling down in line 3 times, he finally approaches the chairlift. He stands patiently awaiting the arrival of the chair. The second the chair touches his legs, he drops to the ground. After numerous attempts to get on the lift, the beginning skier finally reaches the top of the slope. His feet, however, aren't the first things to touch the snow. The skier tries for 5 min. to regain his composure, then he starts down the slope at a speed of 3 ft. per min. This treacherous speed, however, goes from 3 ft. per min. to 3 mph to 60 mph. The skier thinks, "How do I stop?" He then begins to gracefully sit on the snow, and SMACK with the help of a tree, he stops. The beginning skier is loaded onto a sled and rushed to the base of the mountain for immediate medical attention. For this reason, the beginning skier is the most noticed but the least seen skier on the mountain.

Honor society reached goal

The National Honor Society worked hard to maintain the society's ideals. The group is based on scholarship, service, leadership and character. The club of eleven members sponsored a book fair for the elementary and middle school students which was a success. With the money they received from the book fair, the group enjoyed pizza at Pizza Hut and the movie, "Police Academy" at the Acme theater. They also purchased new overlays for the members to wear at graduation.

For a service project the members volunteered to usher at the awards assembly and at the graduation ceremony.

Twelve new members were inducted into the National Honor Society on Tuesday, May 8th at 7:30. These students were selected by a committee of teachers after they reviewed the candidate's applications.

With their various projects the Honor Society fulfilled their goals of promoting leadership, character, service, and scholarship.

Safety Club saving lives

Wanting to make the students more aware of the dangers involved in drinking and driving was one of the main purposes of the Wind River Youth Traffic Safety. This fall they sponsored a week film festival on accident prevention and driver's safety. Throughout the year the group also provided many activities for the students such as essay and poster contests, safety tips on the morning announcements, and an information booth at the Winter Carnival.

Some of the members went to the Spring Youth Traffic Safety meeting held in Casper. John Newman was also selected to attend the National Traffic Safety Meeting held in Washington D.C. as a representative for the Wyoming Division of Youth Traffic Safety.

W.R. corrals many buckles

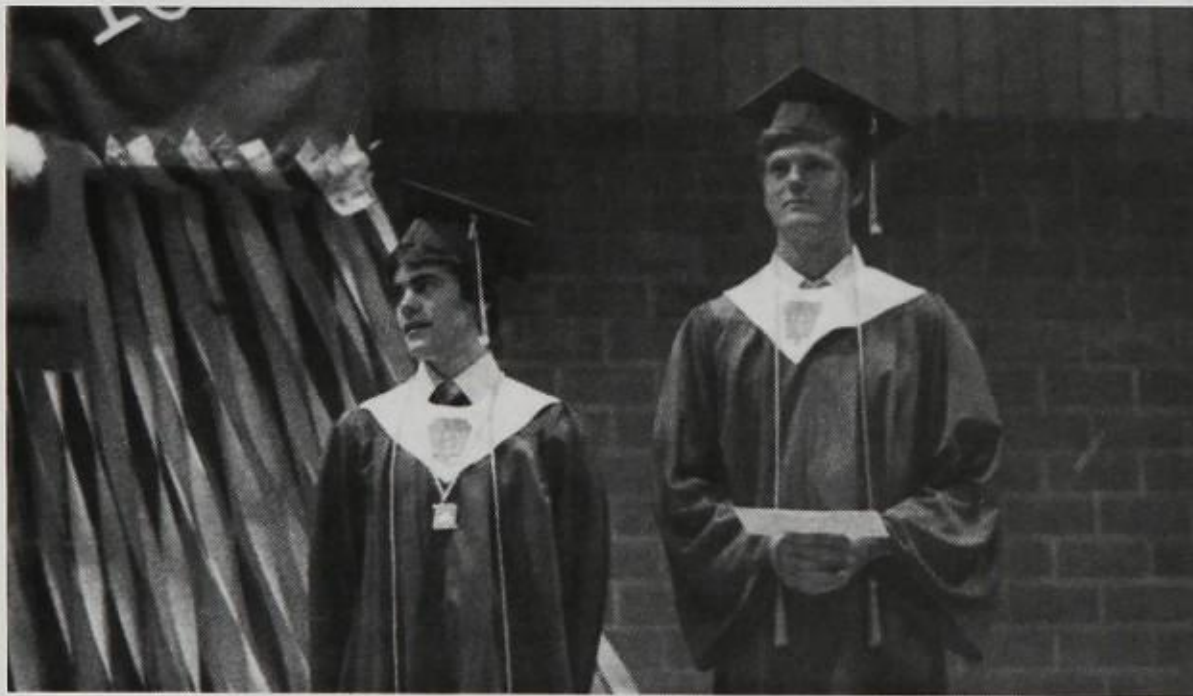

This year's Rodeo Club was small but mighty. All of its ten strong members, Mark Nelson, Troy Runner, Brandi Gaikowski, Laura Weliever, Kevin Annan, Mickie Mantle, Traci Lockhart, Keith Peterson, Dar Mantle and Kristan Howard, fared well in the local competition held in Cheyenne, Laramie, Dubois, and Pavillion. Three of these members, Mickie, Traci and Dar, qualified at State to go to the National Rodeo Finals held in Douglas.

The rodeo hosted by the Rodeo Club in Pavillion this year was a real success as Dar Mantle won the All-around title. A lot of parents contributed their time and effort to add to the rodeo's success.

SENIORS

Commencement was emotional

May, 20, 1984 thirty-four seniors worked their way into the hearts of hundreds of people. The gymnasium glowed with the love felt for this daring and energetic class.

Ken Smith, Salutatorian, presented the welcoming address. He stated the class was like a diamond in the rough and time and polishing would only add to its brilliance. Scholarships of nearly ninety thousand dollars were presented to 74% of the class (see page 14).

The ceremony steadily built to an emotional high through the performance of the Select Chorus, Laura Weliever's theme address, Joe Campbell's memory laced speech and finally to Vicki Lund's appropriately selected song, "I'm never going to say goodbye".

Even Mr. Blackwell found it difficult to avoid showing emotion as he introduced the class to the audience and school board. Bruce Westlake, vice chairman of the board, presented the diplomas as Mrs. Conwell gave each graduate a single red rose.

Class whined & dined '84'

The Star Plunge was the first stop for the twenty seniors participating in the senior trip. The majority went swimming while a few checked into their motel rooms. The swimmers demonstrated their physical finesse as they played basketball, had chicken fights, and went diving. Afterwards everyone gathered in the park to have a BBQ. Later a few went to see a movie while some stayed behind at the Holiday Inn to burn up the racquetball court.

The night passed quickly, and it was once again time to eat; this time a lavish breakfast. Seniors and sponsors dragged themselves from revitalizing sleep, nourished their bodies, loaded the bus and headed to Cody.

The Buffalo Bill Museum was the major attraction, and after a few hours of informative sightseeing it was lunch time. Everyone pigged out at the Green Gables, and then terrorized the town. It was an eventful two days that will be lodged in the minds of those who participated for a very long time.

Top: Harley Walters, Charlie Looney, Annette Gaudern and Eddie Russell along with sponsors Mrs. Scott, Mr. Quayle and Mrs. Tarbet vamoose to have some fun. Seniors set pace for underclassmen.

Senior class officers for 1984 are: back, VPres. Suzy B.; front, Ken S., Pres., Laura W., Treas., Vince P., Sec.

The class of 1984 stepped into the roles of seniors with what seemed like utter disbelief that they were really on the top at last; the leaders of the school. At first it was hard to accept this responsible role, but as the year wore on it seemed natural to be looked upon. By Christmas time many seniors were filling out scholarship applications in preparation for college. Being an academic class at heart, they made a deep impression on the freshmen: the classes developed a good rapport.

The class of '84 won the spirit stick, the class skit, the class yell, the float at Homecoming. The seniors proved that they were genuinely enthusiastic.

This class has made its lasting impression on Wind River High, and will definitely be missed by all in the years to come by all who knew them.

PEOPLE

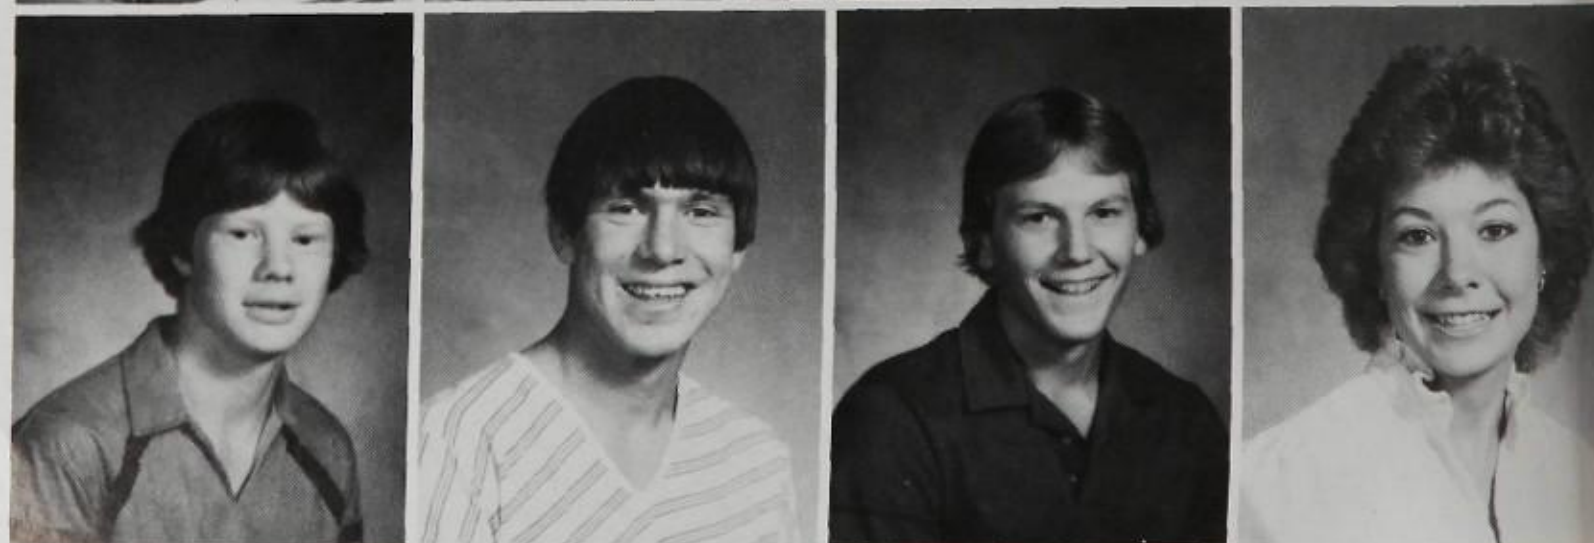

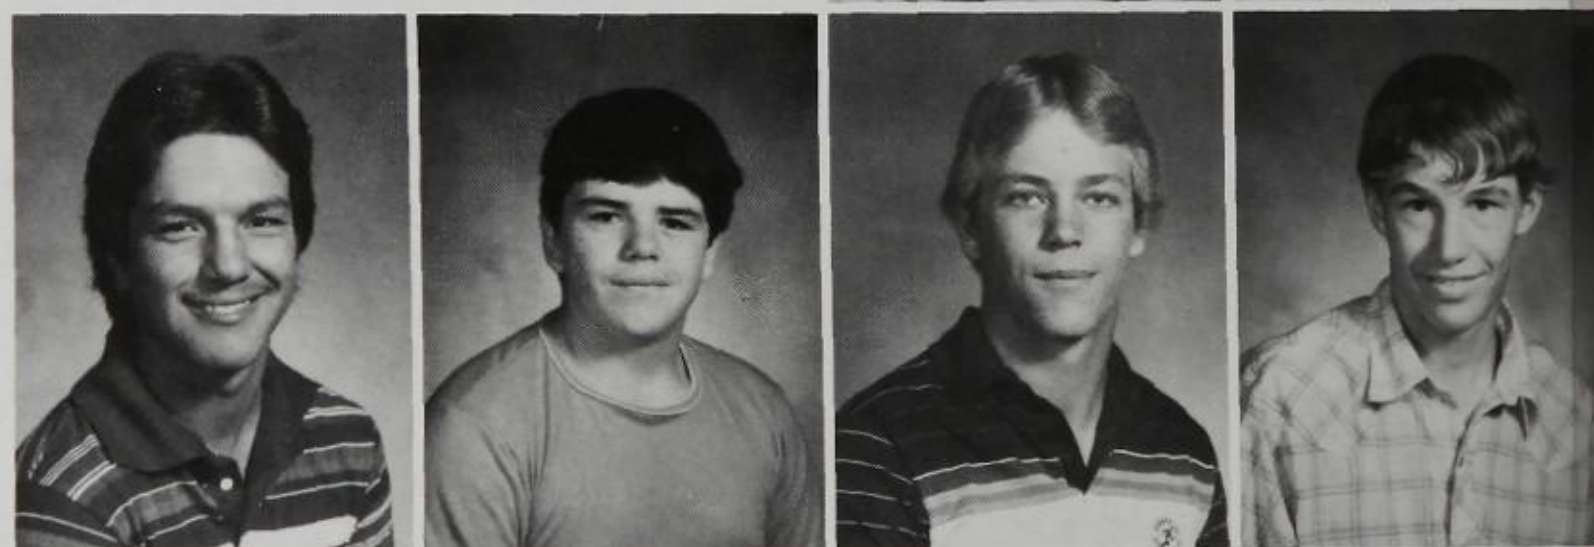

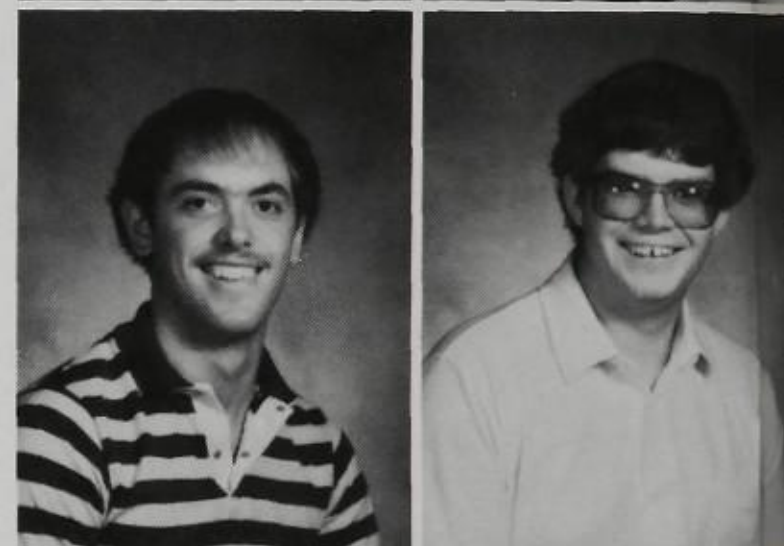

Jrs. aim high

The Juniors were a very active group this year. They were kept busy by selling concessions during the boy's basketball season. They also sold magazines and held a slave sale in preparation for Prom. Prom was held on May 5th at the Eagles Club. The class was also very successful with a sandwich and pie sale at the Wyoming Indian High game.

The sponsors and juniors worked together to come up with a Parent Advisory Board. This was to help the juniors with concessions.

The juniors started off the school year with the second largest class. The leaders of the class were: President, Jud Burrows; Vice President, Scott Dean; Treasurer, Bob Hutchins; and Secretary, Tina Portlock. The junior class sponsors were Miss Nelson, Mrs. Oberlie, and Mr. Slack.

The junior class looked forward to becoming seniors and the leaders of Wind River High School.

Soph. strive to survive

The sophomore class at Wind River High School started off the year by electing Paula Wederski as their President. Assisting her was Charles Wilson, Viney Stagner kept the group records and Richard Ferris as Treasurer. The sophomore sponsors were Mr. Howard, Mr. Nyberg and Mr. Sinner.

During Homecoming week the sophomores participated in a skit, but were disappointed when their float was torn up by the weather.

For money making projects the sophomores sold concessions during the boy's wrestling matches at home and raffled off a belt buckle in December.

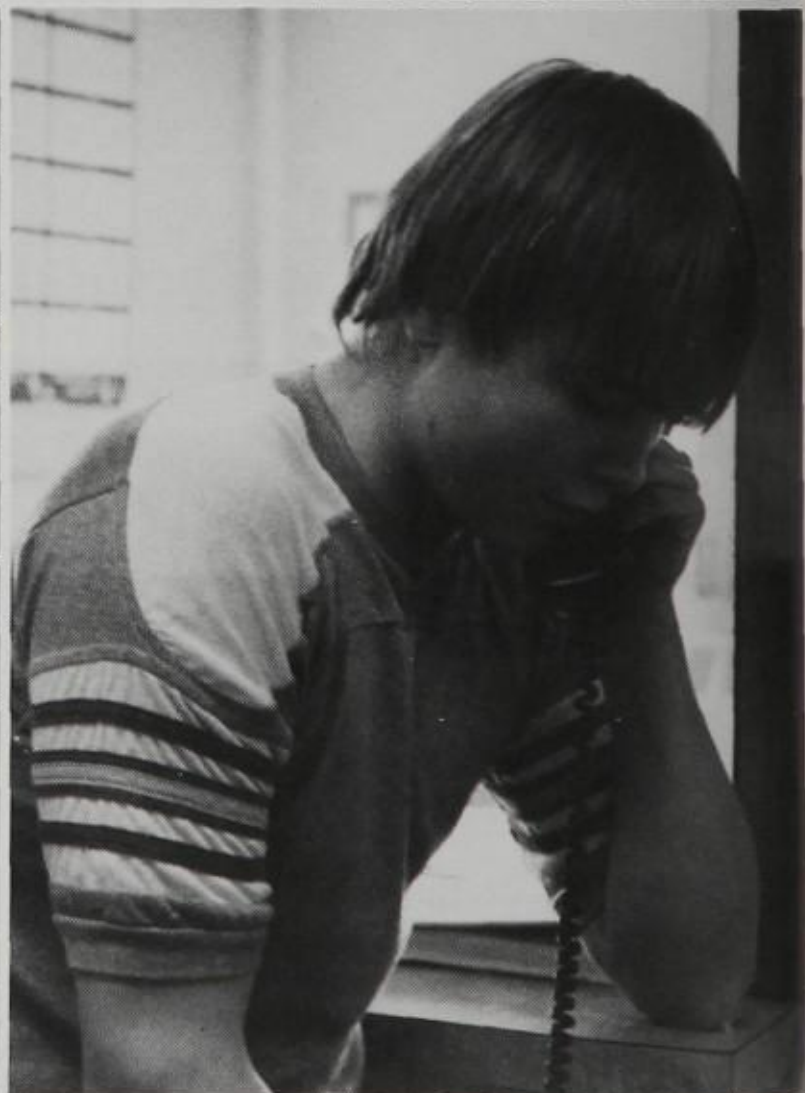

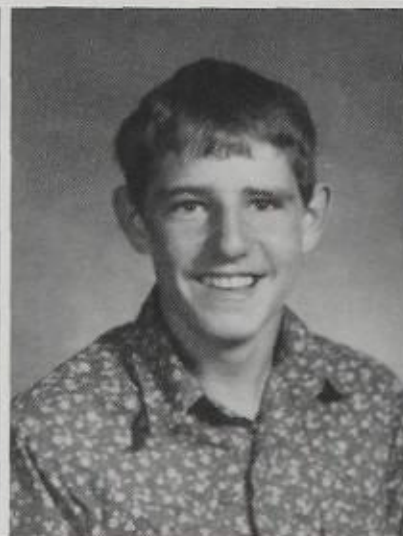

The sophomores are looking forward to next year and all the upcoming events of an upperclassman.

Looking good and getting better

The freshmen started out with the largest class of the school year 1983-84 and had an average of fifteen people on the honor roll all year.

The freshmen learned a lot about high school. For Ms. Jones, they published a school paper called COUGAR UPDATE and read "Romeo & Juliet". During their health class, Mrs. Shaw & Mrs. Bryant assisted Mr. Oakley by teaching Family Living.

Throughout the year, the freshmen participated in several events. Homecoming week they had a skit at the bonfire, a float for halftime and were sold as slaves for the upperclassmen. The class sold concessions for Girl's Basketball and manned a booth at the Student Council Carnival.

The three sponsors who helped the freshmen through the year were Ms. Stearns, Mr. Gomendi, and Mr. Oakley. The class officers for the year were Pres. Tim L; Vice-Pres. Craig B; treas. Brant N; and Sec. Lisa D.

Camille S., Terry R., LeaAnne D., Brent W., Ron W., and Clay W. are a few of the freshmen struggling to go to class on their first day at W.R.H.S.

They Inspire!

There were two new teachers added this year to the faculty. They are Joy Funk, Spanish; Patty Statton, Sophomore and Junior English, and Joyce Pattison, Reading Program.

The teachers didn't participate in Homecoming this year as they had done in the past, but they did a lot of other things. They tried a new method of recording grades on the Computer. Some of the teachers took the ski club to Jackson, and sponsored the cheerleaders. The faculty sponsored dances, concessions, parent-teacher conferences, and they did a really good job. Thanks to the teachers for all their help and making sure things got done.

Mrs. Conwell the high school secretary did a swell job this year. She worked extra hours and did odds and ends for the students. She lets the students use the office phone, and she had office aides. Mrs. Conwell punches the lunches tickets, and manages the money in the office.

WRHS makes improvements

WRHS was improved this year. Some of the large windows were replaced with smaller windows. Fire proof doors were added to the classrooms in the lower part of the school. All of these improvements were done to meet fire codes.

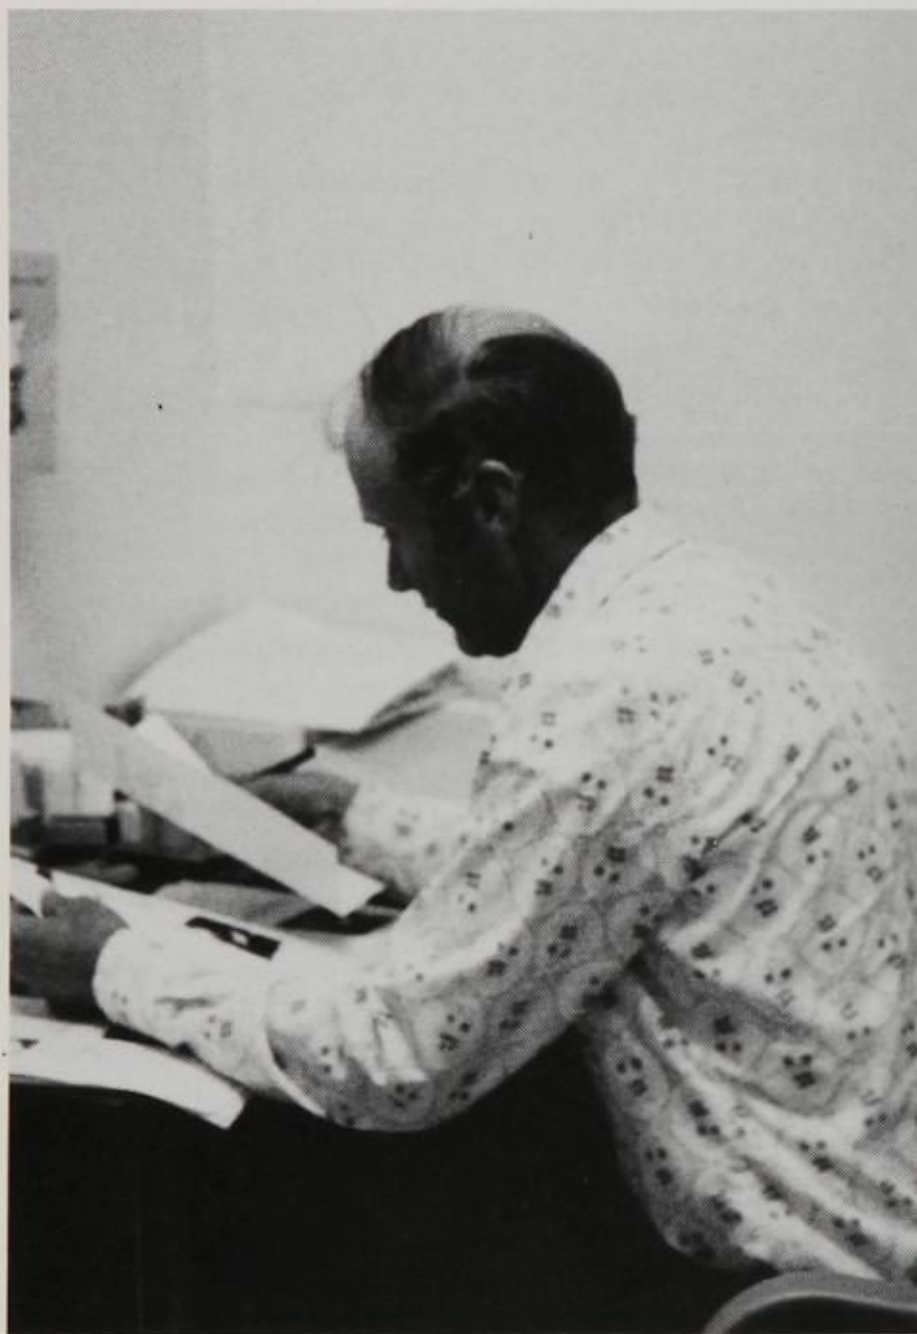

The janitors did an exceptional job of keeping up with the improvements. Mr. Hudson was hired as the head custodian. He motivated the crew well, as they pined several of the classrooms and made sure the messes made by the students were taken care of. They also kept the school running smoothly despite many mechanical problems. Further improvements will possibly be made after the bend election next year.

One part of Wind River that did not need improvements was the kitchen. The cooks did a swell job getting the students fed. They put in a lot of long hours preparing meals for the mob.

ADVERTISEMENTS

As an extra special feature for graduating Seniors, the 1984 yearbook staff presented parents with an opportunity to recognize their favorite Senior. The staff would like to extend their congratulations to these and all of the other Seniors.

Good Luck

Kevin Annan: Miss Stearns' term paper, rodeo, Mr. Sinner for being crazy, Denver Stock Show, graduation, my classmates and the fun times we had, and how Mr. Slack was so helpful with FFA.

John Morrison: Miss Stearns correcting my "Engclisch," FFA, and some very neat and innovative teachers.

Coy Krata: I will always remember the term paper, lunch, graduation, and all the classmates that left us.

Vonda Wells: Basketball, but most of all the people.

Cris Denke: The "fun" I had going to school, the people I've met and how they were always trying to meet the fire code by tearing apart the building. They could have done better to burn it down.

Vicki Lund: Volleyball season, basketball practices and season, term paper, psychology, filling out scholarship applications, chemistry, Mr. Quayle, Miss Stearn, boys basketball games.

Randy Dolcater: Denver Stock Show, term paper, having to ride the school bus that had the slowest driver.

Charlie Looney: The day I get my diploma.

Suz y Blankenship: The shooting incident at Mr. B's, going to college.

Tom Heron: Weekends and dances, parties, P.E., concerts, Miss Stearns, Mr. Sinner's class, arcades, Coors.

Shawn Steffan: Girls, good times, sports, teachers, and kids.

Scott Inman: The thing that I will remember the most about WRHS is the sports. I will probably never get a chance to compete like I did here, and I will miss it a great deal.

Kevin Schilling: I think I will miss being able to play football, and I will miss being with all of my friends.

Doug Clapp: I think the thing I'm going to miss most is the music and the friends I've made in the faculty.

Marilyn May: What a drag it was, and homework was worse. The bus ride was terrible, too.

Tina Leonhardt: The term paper, being an office aide, and having to compete with my brother's grades.

Shawn Swallow: About the only things that I would want to look back at would be the food, and all of the wild parties.

Annette Gaudern: Term paper, hopefully the senior trip, ski trip (overniter), and graduation.

Laura Weliever: The teachers were good and kept classes fun. Also, I will never forget all my good friends in the senior class as well as the underclassmen. They have all made my H.S. years special.

Vince Phillips: All the wild and crazy people I went to school with, graduation, senior keg, football, skiing, advanced P.E., senior trip, and the great rock concerts that I attended.

Dwight Harris: Friends, carpentry tech., senior trip, and graduation.

Quentin Tillman: All the teachers I had classes with, the sports, my advanced P.E. class, homework and parties, the dances, Copenhagen, wrestling (losing weight), concerts, foosball, arcades, Coors, and the term paper.

Mickie Mantle: All the crazy things I did do and didn't do and shouldn't have done but did anyway with my friends or all by my lonesome.

Shelley Stone: The term paper, my best and close friends, and the Proms.

Chad Cloman: Skiing, working at McDonald's, Stearns' class,

Best Best Wishes, Vicki Jo

You are a very special young lady, and we thank the Lord for giving you to us. You have made us so proud, and we wish you the best in life.

Mom and Dad

To our son, Michael Beck,

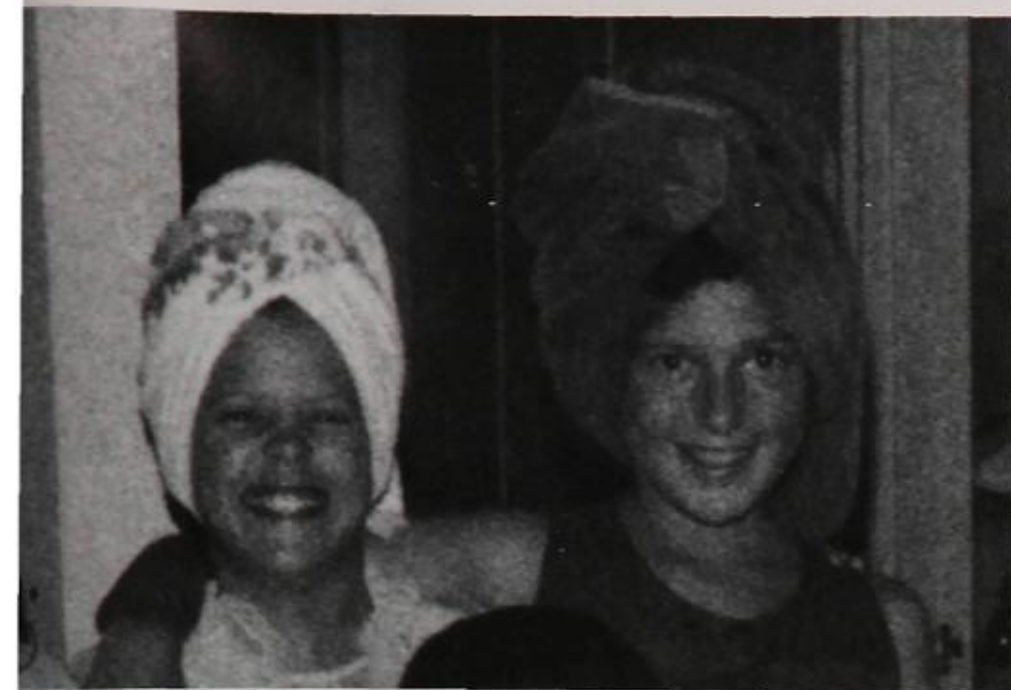

Congratulations and best wishes to you upon graduating from Wind River High.

You have accomplished much during your school years and we are very proud of you.

May the Lord bless you in your future years as you labor in your chosen vocation.

Love from Mom and Dad

applications, awards for contests.

Ken Smith: What a busy time this is for filling out scholarship applications and college admission forms, homework, how much time I don't have, activities, sports, current events, and doing things with my friends!

Mike Beck: I'll most remember the skiing, the girls, all my fellow seniors, the girls, term papers, the girls, phys. ed., the girls, and college.

Harley Walters: Classmates, teachers, basketball team.

Ross Goff: Teachers, graduation, kids, kegs (I didn't get drunk so I can remember them!).

Mark Nelson: I will remember with terrible agony the tests, term papers, etc., etc., etc. I will remember with great joy the bad things I did and got away with.

Marty Campbell: I will remember lunch, term paper, Vo-Ag, senior trip, graduation, end of school.

Richie Cox: The teachers and their kind hearts. They were always willing to help. My senior year has been great because everyone has to put up with all the rucous that I put forth. No matter what happens I know I have made a lot of friends.

Harley Big Knife: Nothing!

Jami Scheer: Only the good times throughout the years, the special people, and the general things: dances, parties, games and term papers.

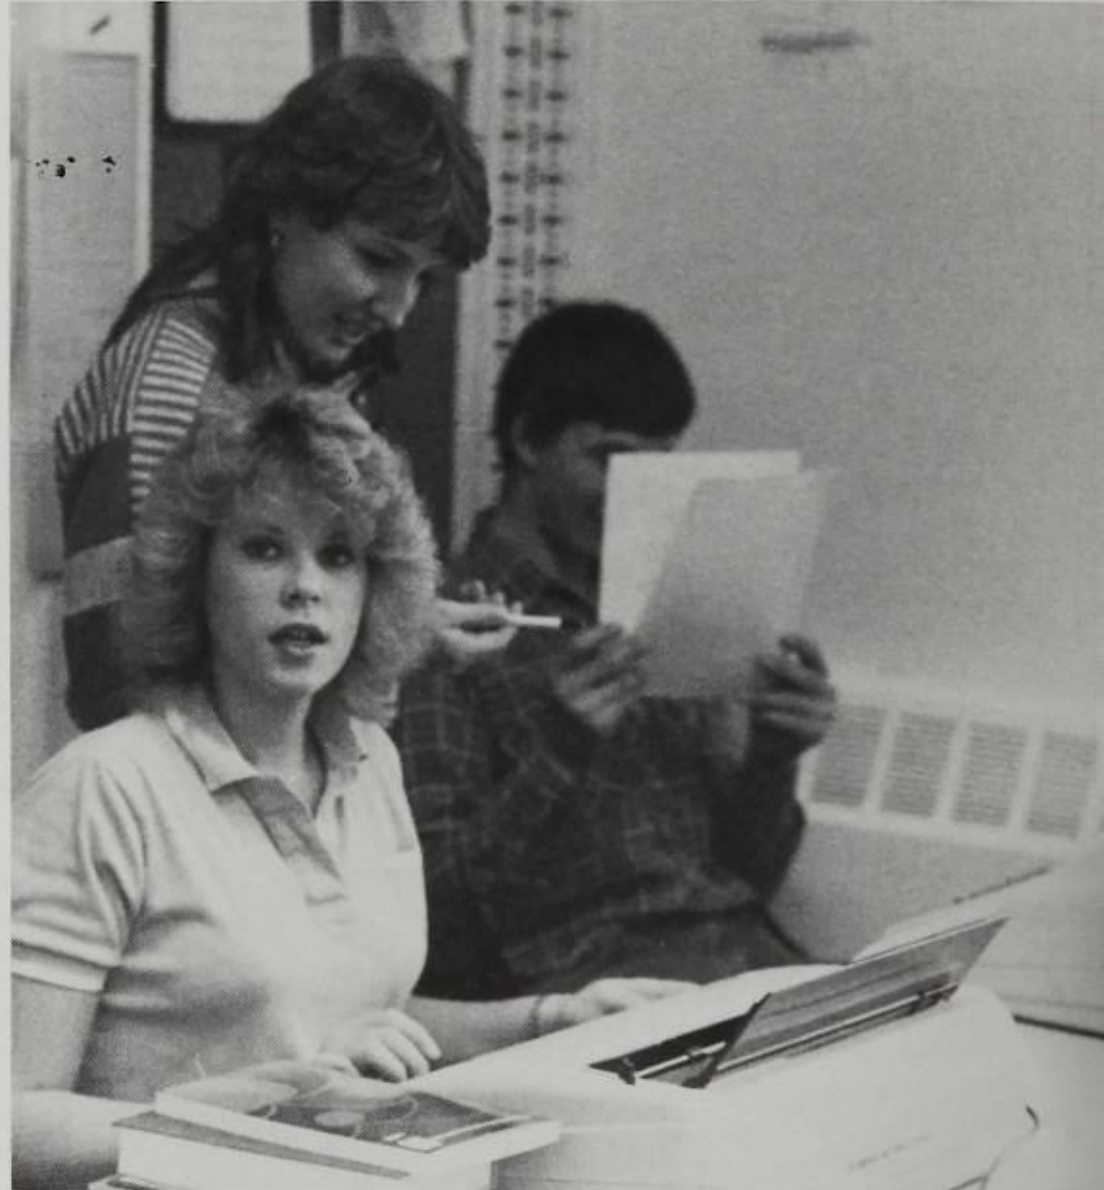

Matthew Fox: I will remember sports, friends, and having an awesome time.

Brenda Swank: Term papers and the student's attitudes, prom, dances, parties and all the crazy people at Wind River. My friends were wonderful and the teachers were always there to talk to and help.
